Good Luck!

Last night when I looked up, the sky was dark blue. I saw I wood sea stars but my eye was surprised by their brightness.

Who had made them seem so beautiful? I was sure they had been made millions of years ago, and I was captivated by their beauty. I wanted to stare at them forever, but my piece was disturbed. None of this would be forgotten but I knew it was to grate to last.
